

VIEWING MY GRADES

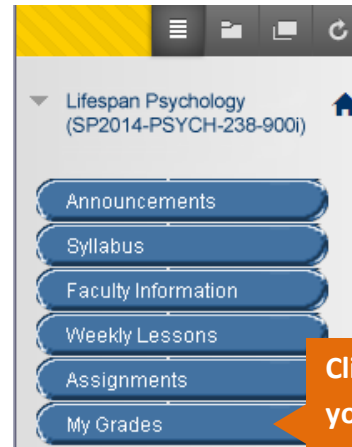

Blackboard Learn

Instructors may use a Blackboard course's Grade Center to provide grades and feedback to students throughout the semester. If your instructor has provided a link or button to the My Grades tool, you may click it to view your progress in the course.

FREQUENTLY CHECK YOUR MY GRADES AREA

It is a best practice to frequently check your course's My Grades area to verify that work that you have submitted through Blackboard is logged in your course's Grade Center. If you find a discrepancy, please contact your instructor immediately!

ICON MEANINGS

NAME	MEANING
 Needs Grading	Students will see this icon appear in My Grades next to any assessment that they have successfully submitted to the instructor for grading.
 In Progress	Students will see this icon appear in My Grades next to any assessment that they have begun but not submitted for grading. For example, this icon may appear when an assignment or discussion thread is saved as a draft. It will also appear when a test has been opened and begun. If this icon still displays after submitting an assessment for grading, contact your instructor immediately! The presence of the icon may mean that a problem occurred with submitting the assessment.
 Feedback Comment Available	Students will see this icon when the instructor has added some feedback to the grade. Click the icon to view the feedback.
_	If there is a single dash where a grade would be, it means that the assessment has not been attempted or has not been graded.

EXAMPLES

VIEWING ONLY GRADED ITEMS

In this example, the student has opened the My Grades page, clicked on the “Graded” tab. This makes the My Grades page re-sort and display only those items that have been graded. Because the student selected “Order By: Due Date (Oldest First)”, the items are listed according to due date descending.

VIEWING ONLY UPCOMING OR IN-PROGRESS ITEMS

In this example, the student has opened the My Grades page, clicked on the “Upcoming” tab. This makes the page re-sort and display only those items that have not been submitted by the student or not yet graded by the instructor. This includes items that may be in progress . Because the student selected “Order By: Last Activity”, the items are listed according to the time and date of last activity, descending.
